

Tailoring effective production processes with SAP Business One®

Before: Challenges and Opportunities

- Al Hamoor’s previous software removed manual transactions but provided little control over production.
- There was a shortage of information about wastage, sales and shipping.
- New software was required that could track every stage of production, breaking down costs per project, and uniting all companies within the group.

Why SAP Business One and Inflexion

- SAP Business One is a cloud-based platform that could consolidate all data from all companies.
- SAP Business One could automate all processes and produce reports on all business aspects, from wastage to sales.
- Inflexion gave invaluable support throughout implementation and respond quickly to any problems Al Hamoor encountered.

After: Value-Driven Results

- Since implementation, management can view the performance of each store at the click of a button.
- All data is now on the cloud, enabling access at any time, from any device.
- Production can be tracked effortlessly, with a full analysis report available on completion of individual projects.
- Real-time data enables accurate inventory control.
- Accurate shipping information allows suppliers to track shipments and has improved customer service.

“When Inflexion presented us with SAP Business One things totally changed. We now have the option to track production – who did the stitching, how much fabric was used, when the customer collected it. We have access to the full analysis.”
